Held in McVey Hall

Approximately 150 representatives from 15 institutions of the state are expected to attend the 28th annual meeting of the Association of Kentucky Colleges and Universities to be held Saturday, January 14, in McVey hall.

The following is an extract from a letter sent to members of the University staff by President McVey:

"A good program has been arranged. You will enjoy it and the fellowship of the colleagues of other colleges of the state. I hope that you will make some personal sacrifice, if necessary, to attend these meetings."

The program, according to a bulletin issued by the association, will be an all-day affair, commencing at 10 o'clock in Room 111. At that time the exercises will be opened with an invocation and a reading of the minutes of the last annual convention. Pres. H. E. Waters, president of the association, will then give an address, followed by discussion, and several talks by James H. Richmond, superintendent of public instruction; Dean Paul H. Farrier of Kentucky Wesleyan. A discussion, concluding the morning session, will be held after Dean Farrier's speech.

A meeting of the Kentucky Association of Registrars will be held during the noon recess, Dean Maurice F. Seay, Union College, president. Those presenting talks include M. E. Mattox, registrar at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers' College; and Mary Page Milton and Ezra L. Gillis, holders of similar positions at Morehead Teachers' College, and the University, respectively.

Professor A. M. Stickle, Western State Teacher's College, will open the afternoon session with an address, "What Have the Colleges to Offer Toward the Rehabilitation of the Present." A discussion on this subject will be led by Prof. J. B. Shannon of Transylvania University. Pres. H. L. Donovan, Eastern Kentucky State Teacher's College, will review "The Study Habits of College Students," after which other remarks and opinions will be made by representatives concerning that subject.

Reports from various committees will be given, followed by miscellaneous discussions, a business session concluding the program.

Officers of the association, besides the president previously mentioned, are President Rainey T. Wells, Murray State Teachers' College, vice-president, and Dean Paul F. Boyd of the University, secretary-treasurer.

Kernel Editors
Announce New
Copy DeadlineEconomy Program, Copyreader's Complaints Make Changes Necessary

A new deadline schedule has been arranged for The Kernel and will be put in effect at once. The changes that have been made are the result of an economy program necessitated by lack of advertising and of many complaints from both press room and news room to the effect that copy is not handed in to the desk on time to justify its being printed. Therefore, the following changes have been made:

All copy must be ready for printing by 6 p.m. on the day that the paper goes to press. This means that all the copy must be read, proofed and corrected, and then set up in its corrected form for the final press.

Columns, of the feature type, are to be handed in before 2 p.m. Wednesday for the Friday edition and before noon Saturday for the Tuesday edition. There will be no society news received later than 10 a.m. Monday for the Tuesday edition. For Friday's paper the society notes must be in the office by 10 a.m. Thursday.

All assignments for reporters will be posted early enough to allow the sufficient time to cover their assignments. The assignment sheets bear the date the story is due. If the story is not turned in on that day it must be in early the following day or it will not be accepted. The general rule covering this states that the story must be handed in not later than the day after which the story is available; that is, if a story happens on Tuesday, the write-up of it must be in not later than Wednesday morning.

The editorials for each edition must be in by 5 p.m. on the day preceding the printing of the paper. Reporters and other staff members are warned to get their assignments in on time or they will be put on probation, and if the offense is repeated the member will be dropped from the staff. Promotions and appointments will be made within the next few weeks and the work that each staff member does will be a big factor in his being considered for promotion.

The position of News editor will be vacant after January 27, Gilbert Kingsbury, present news editor, graduating at that time. Appointment of his successor will be made within the next two weeks. Other promotions will be made later.

Honorary Sorority
Announces Plans
For Next Semester

Cwens, sophomore women's honorary, has released plans for its activities for the second semester. In addition to affairs given for women outside the honorary group, they have also planned to conduct discussions at their own meetings. As far as can be ascertained, this is the only honorary on the campus that devotes its meeting to the pursuit of cultural attainments.

First of the new plans on the second semester schedule is the tea and reception given in honor of the new girls entering the University in February. According to officers of the group, a meeting of this sort will enable the new women to become more familiar with university life.

During the Easter holidays the members of the group intend to conduct a Blue Grass tour for the benefit of those co-eds who are unable to return to their homes for the holiday period. This type of entertainment is an additional innovation among organizations on the campus.

Before the end of the term in June, Cwens plans to conduct their annual reception for the outstanding freshman women who are of such qualifications as to be eligible to the society. President of the present organization is Louise Johnson, while Elizabeth Hardin is vice-president.

Sulzer Featured
In Band Magazine

The December issue of the national magazine, "The School Musician," carries a story entitled "Can Band Music Be Broadcast," written by Elmer G. Sulzer, Director of Band and Radio Station at the University of Kentucky.

On the pages with the article are pictures of Mr. Sulzer demonstrating his ideas in securing the best radio broadcast effect. Also, several of the pictures show The University of Kentucky Band.

Mr. Sulzer enumerates and explains a list of rules which he considers essential to the success of this technique.

UNIVERSITY HIGH CLUB WILL SPONSOR DANCE

The Pandora club of the University High school is entertaining with a subscription dance Friday evening, January 13, in the High School gymnasium. The music will be furnished by the Masqueraders orchestra. At that time there will be much discussion and Doctor Kuiper has been asked to lecture again sometime during second semester meetings and to continue his discussion.

Process of Determining Rates of Growth	WHAT IS TECHNOCRACY?	It Will Stop Hoarding
---	-------------------------	-----------------------------

The question, "What is Technocracy?" has been racing around the campus ever since the word was found to actually mean something. The number of people who actually know what it is is not nearly commensurate with the number who want to know. Prof. L. H. Carter, of the College of Commerce, has attempted a definition, and a partial analysis and rationalization of the subject. (Editor's Note)

By L. H. CARTER
as told to
Judy Chadwick

The word "Technocracy" has spread throughout the civilized world within a comparatively short time. Although we have just recently heard so much about Technocracy, it is not so new, for we know that fundamental work has been done along this line for more than thirteen years. The smoldering beginnings have suddenly burst into flames.

Howard Scott of New York is probably the oldest proponent of Technocracy. He was made director of the Energy Survey of North America. Undoubtedly the best statement of the meaning of Technocracy is to be found in a copyrighted article by Scott in the December issue of the Living Age. He says:

"Technocracy is a research organization founded in 1920, composed of scientists, technologists, physicists, and biochemists. It was founded to collect and collate data on the physical functioning of the social mechanism on the North American continent, and the magnitude of its operations in a quantitative comparison with the other continental areas of the world. Technocracy accordingly establishes a new technique of social measurement, that is to say, a process for determining the rates of growth of all energy consuming devices within the limits of the next most probable energy state."

It is not difficult to see that it would be rather difficult to make an abridged Webster dictionary definition of Technocracy. In fact, the Technocrats, I believe, wish it to be enshrouded in a mist of doubt. It promotes their cause. Then, too, they don't know themselves what will result at the end of the crystallization process. We do know that at the beginning the word "Technocracy" was coined to define "National Industrial Management."

We have heard about technological unemployment in the last 20 years. Machine production has increased so enormously that a large percentage of our idle need not expect employment even with much better times than we now have, as-

Alumni Dinner

JOHNSON, TOASTMASTER

Mr. R. Miller Holland, practicing attorney of Owensboro, will be the principal speaker at the banquet to be given by the Alumni association of the University Thursday, January 26, on the University campus, in honor of the mid-year graduating class. Mr. Holland is a graduate of the University in the class of 1908 and one of the prominent alumni of the institution.

While a member of the student body at the University, Mr. Holland distinguished himself as a student and leader, later obtaining his law degree from the University of Virginia. While on the Kentucky campus he was president of the Y. M. C. A., president of the Union Literary society, vice-president of the Chess club, and won the Bennett prize presented annually to the senior student presenting the best essay in history. Mr. Holland was also the representative of his senior class.

Keene Johnson, editor of the Richmond Register and a graduate of the University of Kentucky in the class of 1922, will be the toastmaster at the alumni banquet. Mr. Johnson is a prominent alumnus of the University of Kentucky and while a student at the University was active in journalistic work on the campus. He was associate editor of the Kentucky Kernel during his four years in the University and was a member of Alpha Delta Sigma, honorary journalistic fraternity. He will introduce R. Miller Holland, the principal speaker for the banquet.

Alumni Members
Will IncorporateShropshire To Have Papers
Drawn Up; Will Submit
Them in February

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Alumni association held January 9 at the Lafayette hotel, definite arrangements were made for the incorporation of the association. James Shropshire, secretary, was authorized to have incorporation papers legally up and ready to submit to the committee at the February meeting.

Other important business of the meeting was the decision of the committee to sponsor a dinner for the mid-year graduating class. Miss Margie McLaughlin was put in charge of arrangements.

Members of the executive committee who were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wilson at the meeting were: Dr. Davis Buckner, Dr. E. Cronley Elliott, Miss Lullie Logan, Miss Margie McLaughlin, Mrs. T. R. Underwood, Miss Betty Hulett, Mr. L. K. Frankel, Mr. James Shropshire, Mr. W. J. Crutcher, Mr. Wayland Rhoads, and Dr. George Wilson.

REES ADDRESSES MATH GROUP

Prof. E. L. Rees addressed Pi Mu Epsilon at 4 p.m. last Thursday, in Room 109, McVey hall, on "The Theory of Equation Balances." On December 8, Dr. John Kuiper, head of the philosophy department, gave a lecture to members of Pi Mu Epsilon, having as his subject "Mathematical Logic." At that time there was much discussion and Doctor Kuiper has been asked to lecture again sometime during second semester meetings and to continue his discussion.

mer Style to Satisfaction of Fans and Coach

With an impressive win over the South Carolina Gamecocks Tuesday night, the 'Cats demonstrated to local fans that they are still a great club but Coach Rupp immediately began preparations for the game with Tennessee Volunteers which will be played Saturday night in Knoxville.

The 'Cats who started the game were let off with a light drill on foul shooting but the reserves were pitted against the freshmen Wednesday afternoon and battled with the cubs on fairly even terms for a short time. Thursday afternoon the Varsity battled the reserves and looked pretty good. Big George Yates who starting off rather slowly at the first of the season has begun to show his old-time form and is definitely slated for a regular job. DeMoisey, unimproved, will be held in reserve to bolster the team if any of the starters show a sign to lag.

The Tennessee team after dropping games to Tulane and the South Carolina Gamecocks came back last week and gave the 'Cats, great professional basketball team, a hard fight only to lose by two points in the final seconds of play. Coach Rupp says the Vols have a much better team than the one that came so near to defeating the 'Cats last year. Four lettermen from last year are sitting on the bench while four sophomore sensations perform on the Orange and White varsity.

In the South Carolina game the Ruppmen were tired, but showed it little. They will be in tip-top shape for the Tennesseans. This year the Knoxville team does not boast a gigantic center but they have a fast working smooth combination and they may not be so easy as the 'Cat partisans would like to believe. When a Kentucky team appears against a Tennessee team, the Vols are never easy marks.

The exhibition of the 'Cats against the Gamecocks Tuesday night was the smoothest they have given here this season. The competition was stiff as they have encountered this season as the former Athens Texas stars were well drilled and big.

Another light drill will be given the Wildcats by Coach Rupp before the team trains for the Tennessee strong hold. The boys will leave late this afternoon and return to Lexington after the game.

Coach Rupp was well pleased with the performance of all the men who played in the last game and especially with the work of his two elongated stars, Captain Sale and ex-captain George Yates, who passed well and the whole quintet clicked like a well oiled Swiss watch.

State Music Group
To Meet Saturday

The Central Kentucky Music Education association will hold a meeting at 12:30 p.m. Saturday, January 14, at the Teacup inn, which is to be followed by the program to be given at 2 p.m. at the Art center.

There is to be informal playing and singing and a discussion of teaching points to be used in the High School Music festival. Also there will be a book review of one of the recent books on music education problems.

The Madrigal Singers of Morehead have been invited to give another program such as they gave before the Kentucky Music Training association in November.

Happy Birthday to You--Even If Today Is Friday, ThirteenthSix Students Celebrate Their Nativity on "Black Friday"

Black Cat day, Hoodoo day, Friday 13th! Today's the day that witches ride north and spread destruction in their path. Warnings have been issued by the federal government to all students at the University.

"Don't accept any twenty dollar bills offered by total strangers," the warning. "They may be counterfeit." University authorities were about to remind the student body not to accept any alcoholic liquors for fear that it may be poisonous.

Anyway, in order to ascertain the truth concerning all Friday the 13ths, The Kernel is going to conduct a survey to determine whether students who were unlucky enough to be born on Black Cat day receive adequate returns in the form of birthday gifts. The following eds, co-eds and other forms of college life testified that their nativity is being celebrated on this Friday.

Mary Francis Dreyer, was born on January 13, 1906. That makes her, oh well, old enough to vote. Frankfort is home, sweet home to Miss Dreyer.

Semester

Plans are underway to conduct the annual O. D. K. interfraternity sing in connection with the Cwens inter-sorority contest according to John M. Kane, and Louise Johnson who are conducting the affair for the organizations.

The event will be conducted sometime during the second semester although the exact date has not yet been set. It probably will be formal. O. D. K. sing was postponed from the first date which was set until January 6. However, negotiations with Cwens, sophomore women's honorary, resulted in a second postponement.

The inter-fraternity contest is the second annual affair while the sing postponed by the women will be the first event of its type according to members of the sorority. Success may result in making the affair an annual occasion.

There will be a meeting of O. D. K. at 5 p.m. Monday in White hall.

Do Not Live in Halls or Fraternities, Today

Friday Thirteenth! It may be a jinx for some people, but not for those town girls and "commuters" who are interested in forming a luncheon club, the latest project of the campus Y. W. C. A., which will have its first meeting at noon today in the University commons in McVey hall.

The charter members of this club, to which only women students who do not live in residence halls or fraternity houses are eligible, will be guests of the Y. W. C. A. at the introductory luncheon.

The program which has been arranged will be opened by Marianna Lancaster, toastmaster. In a short talk Augusta Roberts will explain some of the ideas and possibilities of such an organization. Marie Boltnott, music chairman for the Y. W. C. A., will lead the singing of some favorite camp songs; Sarah Whittinghill will be at the piano. Miss Sarah G. Blanding and Mrs. Sarah B. Holmes, deans of women on the campus, will be introduced as honor guests for the occasion. Katherine Jones, president of the university Y. W. C. A., will be introduced. Each of the members of the new club will be called on to introduce herself in the novel way that has been arranged by the committee having charge of arrangements for the affair. The program will be short to accommodate those having fifth hour classes.

With Banquet

With a banquet at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday at the University Training school the annual discussion group program conducted by the Y. M. C. A. will be closed.

The principal speaker will be Dr. Frank L. McVey, whose topic will be "The Value of Discussion Groups." President McVey will be introduced by Dick Fuller who was chairman of the program and who will preside at the Tuesday night's affair.

In addition to the address a musical program has been arranged. The guests will be the leaders of the discussion groups and three representatives from each organization participating in the program.

The discussion which are annual events were concluded shortly before the holidays.

PAN-HELLENIC
PLANS PARLEYConference of University Fraternities May Be Held;
Recommended by Dean
Melcher

A Pan-Hellenic conference composed of fraternities on the University campus may be held sometime during the second semester if the recommendations of Dean C. R. Melcher are carried out. This was revealed yesterday by a member of the Greek union following a meeting of the group held last Monday night at the Delta Chi house.

According to the information released by Dean Melcher members of the Pan-Hellenic council of the university will arrange for the event in case it is decided to hold the conference. A two-day program may be scheduled and prominent fraternity men will be brought to the campus to address the pledges and members of the orders. The entire program will be followed by a Pan-Hellenic dance at which the visiting fraternity men will be guests of honor.

This plan, Dean Melcher stated, has met with favor at many schools. Ohio Wesleyan is one school where the plan was tried. According to the committee in charge, the affair was successful. Sororities co-operated in conducting the meetings.

Dr. Frank Shepardson, and Branch Hickey were among prominent fraternity men who were brought to the Delaware, Ohio school to speak. Separate meetings were held for pledges and activities at the college and the theme of the meeting was "Harmony Among the Greeks."

AN APPRECIATION

The orderly manner in which the crowd was handled at the South Carolina-Kentucky basketball game Tuesday night is certainly worthy of commendation and a word of appreciation to those persons responsible for the excellent way in which the large number of spectators were comfortably seated. It was in decided contrast to the handling of the mass that attended the contest between Kentucky and Ohio State.

Iron railings were erected leading up to the gymnasium doors. The arrangement afforded an easy and safe entrance into the building. The east entrance to the building, opened for the first time at this game, facilitated the filling of the stands. The wooden barriers, built around the seats, dividing off the various sections of the gymnasium, added to the comfort of seated fans.

As far as could be learned, no person was found smoking during the contest. City firemen were stationed within the structure through the courtesy of the City Manager and the co-operation of the Lexington Fire department and saw that this rule was not violated. The players and the coaches as well as the spectators benefited by this, as the haze created by a number of smokers is most uncomfortable to players and spectators alike. No disorder resulted and a general orderliness pervaded the entire contest.

The Kernel, on behalf of the student body, wishes to thank the Lexington City Manager, the Police and the Fire departments and the University authorities whose co-operation Tuesday night resulted in preserving order at the game. The spirit manifest truly upheld those principles which should be evident at all athletic contests under the auspices of the University.

MUSIC AT THE UNIVERSITY

Through the efforts of the music department of the University, which within last few years has developed every phase of music activity, there has been made possible a statewide movement for the appreciation of higher types of music.

For music lovers at the University and in the City of Lexington a number of programs have been arranged. Opportunity to hear a vesper service every Sunday afternoon is given to all who are interested. The Philharmonic orchestra programs represent another phase of the music activities. Twilight concerts by the University band and programs by the girls' band afford two other means of coming in to direct contact with music masterpieces.

Opportunity to hear good music is not only extended to University students, through the facilities of the University Extension studio of WHAS, musical programs are sent to all sections of the State. There is proof enough that the appreciation of music, as a fine art is increasing yearly.

Heads of the music department have realized that appreciation of music has its roots in adolescent impressions. Therefore, each year a Kentucky high school orchestra and band contest is sponsored at the University in order to create in the youth of the State a greater interest in music.

University artists have co-operated willingly with the music department in giving programs either radioed or presented from the stage of Memorial Hall. Campus organizations have contributed by holding sings or sponsoring music contests.

In short, the University has become musical-minded. The alert student is the one who has recognized the importance of music to his spiritual and mental well-being. He is eager to take advantage of the opportunities afforded him. He is aware of the fact that one need not be a musician to enjoy music. He is an ardent supporter of the movement for greater music appreciation.

EDUCATORS' CONVENTION

The University welcomes to its campus, Saturday, representatives of the various educational institutions of the Commonwealth who will convene for the twenty-eighth annual meeting of the Association of Kentucky Colleges and Universities. The student body is happy to proffer its hospitality to these visitors and wishes them a successful convention.

Only one day is set aside by the association on which the representatives must dispose of the work at hand. The all-day session, according to the program released, will be typical of those held in the past. Educational talks, dissertations, and discourses are to be heard. Many of the State's most distinguished men of letters are scheduled to lead the convention in open discussions concerning the various topics presented to the representatives.

Every educational institution of college rank will have representation at the convention. Many of the junior colleges, too, will have delegates present. All will unite in a concentrated study of the problems and suggestions that are relative to the schooling systems employed in the Commonwealth.

GRADUATE'S DINNER

In line with its many other commendable undertakings the Alumni association this year is sponsoring the annual dinner being given in honor of the mid-year graduating class. To assure the undertaking of success, officers of the association ask that all University staff members attend.

The graduating class dinner affords a present example of the good will which its alumni constantly display for the University. It would seem that persons no longer matriculating at an educational institution would lose interest in their school, that their loyalty toward their Alma Mater would become dimmed and less brilliant through the wear of years. Such a condition would be almost excusable because of the outside interests that inevitably occupy an alumnus' time. But the condition does not exist. Alumni activity gives life to the thought. University graduates remain steadfast in their loyalty toward the institution.

As a result of the nature of its sponsorship, graduating students attending the Alumni dinner doubtless will be imbued with this fine spirit toward their University which among alumni has become traditional. On behalf of the student body, the mid-year graduates, and the University, The Kernel wishes to thank the Alumni association for its undying interest in student affairs.

DOTES AND ANTI-DOTES

Most popular girl on the campus during the next few days should be Columbia Smith. The lady operates the mimeograph machine at the stenographic bureau. Though a mimeograph may be merely a mimeograph most of the time, according to professors preparing examination papers, Columbia knows her mimeographs.

Among the more delightful communications fluttering from among the catalogues last week, is the following:

Dear Editor:
Did you know that there is more than ONE Deltazeta? Have you met the one with the dreamy eyes? Do they dream and do they talk? Her eyes say more than her lips. Ask the Alphas; they know. They call her "Dreamy Eyes." And I'm saying if you haven't met her, your education isn't complete. Try it sometime!
(Signed) ANONYMOUS.
No. No. Unhuh. Egotist? They would. Most unusual. Oh, well. Really, I'd rather not.

There's a deal of croaking going on in the office of the dean of men. It's all because of Bertie.

Bertie's name probably isn't Bertie, but we'll have to call him something. Anyway, Bertie is a frog, not a real frog, but an iron frog, a paperweight frog, who squeals comfortably on the lily pads of University documents adorning the dean's desk.

Bertie has been debauching. The law enforcing dean, slipping into his sanctum the other day, caught Bertie in the act. There was the dean, and there was Bertie—dangling unconcernedly from between his hinged iron lips, a cigarette.

Now it's being whispered that Pyekap Bus Yeager really has ambitions. He has dropped pre-med and has taken to law. Politicians continue to have ambitions.

Frosh loyalty clinging to the blue cap won't be bothered much longer. Student Council resolution, deeming the pot as official headgear for yearlings, specified that the wearing of the blue was required only during the first semester.

Sports editor Ralph Johnson was born to be a news hound. Most everyone has heard the discriminating classification of news values which specifies that a dog biting a man is not news, that man biting a dog, is news. When Johnson, still pursuing childish pleasures and calling for safety pins, was four years old, a gangling canine bit him. But, why go on?

Maestro Sulzer provided eds and cets a decided innovation at the same Monday night. Instead of flaunting his baton, the worthy director, seated among his piccolo proteges, tooted a clarinet. The band was directed by an advanced student.

The Gamecocks are strong on polite manners and good sportsmanship. When the band played, "On, On, U. of K.," the entire squad and the coach stood at attention. Kentucky players remained seated. Campettes must be amused. Here-with is the latest compilation of sorority house games available: Kahpas, "Sniffle"; Kavdees, "Shuffle"; Treysdels, "Rabbit"; Alfazees, "I Doubt It"; Alfadeltathetas, "Dominoes"; Zelaws, "Grumpy Granny"; Alfazeas, "Coffee Pot"; Deltazetas, "Solitaire"; Chios, "Mrs. Jones Is Dead."

While it's being done, Guignol's latest subterfuge bears revealing.

The much advertised "newcomers" to the Little Theater stage, Virginia Dine and Charles Cavanaugh, are none other than Virginia Boyd and Director Fowler.

Typewriter clicks. Cautiously wondering how Nell Plummer can keep two electric score boards running correctly and at the same time, manage the new public announcement system, how Cleerette Lucy Jean Anderson keeps that white flannel skirt clean while she sprawls on the floor under the press table, why the bored expressions on the faces of the many cops and firemen?

Triangle Free Lunch Faunce is trying to belie his name... refuses to treat cets to dinners quite so often. Kaydee Edith Burke while dancing is wont to give vent to a singing scream reminding one of a musical saw. ROAMIN' THE RIALTO

"The Animal Kingdom," RKO adaptation of Philip Barry's stage success, coming Sunday to the Ben Ali theater, is a sophisticated modern drama deriving its title from the point of view of the central feminine character. Her opinion is that most men and women, despite their lofty pretensions, in affairs of the heart, are often animalistic rather than wise, tender, or human. Ann Harding and Leslie Howard are co-starred in "The Animal Kingdom," with other important roles played by Myrna Loy, William Cagney, Neil Hamilton, Henry Stephens, and Ika Chase. Edward H. Griffith directed.

"The Animal Kingdom," was chosen to be the feature attraction for the gala opening of RKO Roxy theater in Radio City, Rockefeller Center, New York City.

The story of "The Match King," is based on the career of one of the world's most famous swindlers. His life was a series of frauds and his reputation, through his affairs with women, in various capitals of the world was notorious. His story was on the front page of every newspaper in the world only a few months ago. First National adapted the story for the picture, "The Match King," coming Saturday to the Strand theater. Warren William plays the title role, with Lillian Damita, Glenda Farrell, and Claire Dodd in supporting cast.

"Me and My Gal," a comedy-romance with Joan Bennett and Spencer Tracy dividing the love interest, coming Saturday to the Kentucky theater, is based on an original story by Barry Corbin and Philip Klein and was prepared for the screen by Arthur Kober. It is a Fox Films production, directed by Raoul Walsh. The supporting cast includes Marion Burns, who plays her film debut in "The Golden West," Henry B. Walthall, George Walsh, Noel Madison, J. Farrell Macdonald, and Adrian Morris.

One of the legends of the American theater is that no actress, in the last 33 years has ever given a bad performance as "Madame Butterfly." Now, Sylvia Sydney carries on the tradition into motion picture in Paramount's picture of John Lingo's famous story, which comes to the Kentucky theater, Monday. Blanche Bates created the role in 1900 under the direction of David Belasco. Miss Sydney is supported by Cary Grant, Charlie Ruggles, Irving Pichel and Helen Jerome Eddy. Marion Gering directed this B. P. Schulberg production.

Phi Tau and Triangle Get Pictures; Formal Application Is Necessary

All fraternities and sororities desirous of obtaining one of the pictures regularly given by the art center for the purpose of house decoration must submit a formal written application to Prof. Edward R. Rannels, head of the Art department of the University. This year only two were awarded due to the fact that only two organizations formally applied. Those receiving pictures were Phi Kappa Tau and Triangle. Since there are only a limited number of pictures in the collection, an early application is urged to insure receiving the one desired.

North Carolinians Oppose Mergence Of Three Colleges

The merging of three North Carolina state schools is meeting with legislative opposition, according to a report received from Chapel Hill, the home of the University of North Carolina. According to Carolina newspapers, the alumni of North Carolina State College is most active in the opposition to the amalgamation.

It is understood that a bill will be introduced in the state legislature, within the next week, to repeal the bill that resulted in the merging of the institutions.

Under the present plan, each state supported school in the Tar-pentine state will be under the direction of a vice-president. The vice-president of each school is under the direction of a central office with a president at the head. This entire arrangement is known as the Greater University of North Carolina.

Besides affecting the two schools, the University of North Carolina and North Carolina State College, the Women's College at Greensboro is also involved in the new arrangements. The move was made to treat an economy in operations.

FAMILIAR FACES

"Why can't you ride your hobby-horse without desiring to place me on a pillow behind you, Mr. Dangle?" cries Mrs. Dangle, at her wits' end to know how to cope with her husband's theatrical fancies. Mr. Dangle has a way of gracefully assigning to his task of entertaining his author friends and actors, as you will see when he details her to see an Italian troupe with a French interpreter. And Mrs. Dangle exits to do her best by them. Quite certain that she won't be able to do anything at all with them.

The moment she's out of the door she pushes back her wig, sighs deeply, and dives into the dressing room to repair any damage done to her make-up and her nerves by her first appearance in a Guignol play. For it's really Margaret Furr, you see, making her Guignol debut in the current play at the little theater, and everybody says that she's doing vastly well, too.

Margaret has had some acting experience before, however. She had the character lead in her senior play in high school in Frankfort, Ky. Since coming to the university two years ago, she has worked on costumes and props, and has, at last, graduated to the stage itself.

Besides being a very material cog in the Guignol wheel, Margaret is a sophomore in the College of Arts and Sciences, and plans to major in art, besides being intensely interested in French and psychology. She counts membership in the Girls' glee club, Psychological Journal club, and Pitkin club, among her activities.

Wait a minute—what?.... Oh! Margaret isn't Margaret any more. She's Mrs. Dangle again and has to fly to pick up her cue. Such is the life of a Guignol debutante.

STUDY REVEALS ODD STATISTICS ON SCHOOL WORK

Education Paper Shows That 23 of Every 1000 Adults Have Degrees

Twenty-three of every 1,000 adult Americans are college graduates, and 125 of every 1,000 are high school graduates.

These statistics, compiled on a nation-wide scale by the Federal Office of Education in Washington, appear in the December issue of The High School Journal, monthly publication of the school of education. Other facts on education in the United States reported are:

The chances of a boy or girl going to high school, which were only one in 25 in 1890, are now one in two.

The chances of a boy or girl going to college, which were only one in 33 in 1900, are now one in six.

One of every four Americans attended some kind of school during the past year.

Of every 1,000 pupils in the fifth grade, 610 enter high school, 260 graduate from high school, 180 enter college, and 50 graduate from college.

Cost Statistics... Ten cents per day paid by every person of voting age in the United States would pay the entire bill for public education. Cost per year for each child is: elementary, current expense, $67.82; high school, $144.03; college and university, $500.

Costs per school day per child in public elementary school, 39 cents; in high school, 80.9 cents. Costs per hour per child in public elementary school, 7.8 cents; in high school, 16 cents.

Phi Tau and Triangle Get Pictures; Formal Application Is Necessary

All fraternities and sororities desirous of obtaining one of the pictures regularly given by the art center for the purpose of house decoration must submit a formal written application to Prof. Edward R. Rannels, head of the Art department of the University. This year only two were awarded due to the fact that only two organizations formally applied. Those receiving pictures were Phi Kappa Tau and Triangle. Since there are only a limited number of pictures in the collection, an early application is urged to insure receiving the one desired.

The pictures are given on a basis of one to each deserving organization and are allowed to be kept for one semester. The purpose of the award is to promote more attractive houses and to create an interest in art among non-participating students. The movement has been very successful so far and the result is that the appearance of living rooms of the houses have been enhanced by the color and decorative effects of the pictures. Professor Rannels is judge of applications and only societies of worth will receive a picture upon making applications in correct form.

PROF. LAWRENCE WILL MAKE SURVEY REPORT

Prof. A. J. Lawrence, College of Commerce, has been requested to make a report on the State Survey of Commercial Education in Kentucky, which he recently completed, before the annual Research Conference of Commercial Education, to be held March 10 and 11, at Iowa State University, Iowa City, Iowa. Professor Lawrence has gathered much interesting data during his work on the survey.

Conduct of Co-eds Causes Criticism

The University of Missouri has started something, and two girls' schools in Colorado have lost no time in following their lead. In an attempt to curb party activities all three schools have set up stringent rules governing conduct of women students attending there.

Virtually every second of the day's program is covered in the regulations, which have a decided Victorian flavor, and were made with the avowed intention of stopping current rumors regarding "wild parties" in college life.

A sample of these laws is presented for the enlightenment of those who attend colleges where liberty still survives.

"Girls are not permitted to talk more than three minutes to young men on the street, in stores or eating places."

"No girl is allowed to go to the telephone office, to any doctor's or dentist's office, or upstairs in any office building without a college chaperon."

"If a girl wishes to take a taxi she must have the permission of the dean of women."

"No girl is allowed to take bath before 6 o'clock in the morning."

GROUP CHANGES QUALIFICATIONS

Prof. H. H. Downing Recommends that SuKy Treasurer be a Male Student of the University

Upon the recommendation of Prof. H. H. Downing, the treasurer of SuKy circle will be a male student of the University. In addition to serving as treasurer of the pep group he will also act as chairman of the concession committee and will handle all monies taken in by the organization at dances and other functions sponsored by the society. It also was decided at a meeting of the circle Tuesday to pay the treasurer for his services.

In order to keep control of the group divided equally between the co-eds and men students, the position of vice-president of the circle will be occupied by a co-ed. In the past the position was occupied by a man. Election of officers will take place next Tuesday and these positions will be filled under the new ruling, according to SuKy officials. The annual football banquet which was postponed due to crowded conditions of the social calendar will be held during the second semester. In addition to having members of the football team present, members of the basketball team will also be invited as guests of honor.

Plans for the May day dance and other activities will be announced after the election of new officials next week, it was said.

DISCLAIMS STATEMENT

In a story concerning the excluding of its representative from a meeting of the Men's Student Council, The Kernel of January 10, quoted O. B. Coffman, Council member, as saying "The Council is tired of The Kernel's interference with its operations." Coffman says that he was misquoted, and that what he did say when a member of the staff of The Kernel asked him why the Council did not admit The Kernel representative to the meeting, was "I had nothing to do with keeping him out, and I decline to discuss what happened in the meeting and would rather not be bothered with questions."

REGISTRATION FOR NEXT SEMESTER SET FOR JAN. 30, 31

According to Dean Paul P. Boyd new courses to be offered by the College of Arts and Sciences will be passed upon by members of the University senate at its meeting which will be held next Monday afternoon.

Recitation and lecture schedules will be distributed a few days before the beginning of the second semester it was announced by members of the registrar's staff. Registration for the second semester will be held on January 30 and 31.

WHITE MATH CLUB MEETS

The regular meeting of the White Mathematics club was held at 4 p. m. last Wednesday, in Room 109, McVey hall. Miss Virginia Edwards, secretary of the club, spoke on "Mathematical Puzzles." In Miss Edwards' discussion, she gave the theory behind math puzzles and also some simple examples which her audience could easily understand.

AGENT TO ADDRESS HOME ECONOMICS CLUB AT 9 A.M. FRIDAY ON "HOME DEMONSTRATION WORK IN KENTUCKY"

Miss Myrtle Weiden, state leader of Home Demonstration agents, will address the Home Economics club at 9 a.m. Friday on "Home Demonstration Work in Kentucky." The meeting will take place in Room 205, Agriculture building.

PHILHARMONIC BAND WILL PLAY

Program Will Be Presented by Orchestra on January 22 in Memorial Hall; Selections To Be Translated

The University Philharmonic orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Carl Lampert, will present a program of outstanding classical selections January 22 in Memorial Hall. The program will include such compositions as "March Slave," by Tchaikowsky; "Danse Macabre," (Dance of the Skeletons), by Saint-Saens; and "Les Preludes," the famous tone poem of Liszt. The Paraphrase on the Melody in F, by Rubenstein, may also be included.

Printed programs for this concert will be given to the audience. These programs will bear translations of each selection so that the music may be understood and enjoyed by all of the listeners. Such titles as "Danse Macabre" and others probably would have little meaning to the public, according to Professor Lampert, and it is with this thought in mind that the compositions will be explained to the audience.

The following day, January 23, the orchestra will broadcast a similar program from the University studios of WHAS.

Several invitations have been received by the orchestra to give concerts in various towns in Kentucky. These invitations have been accepted and they will be fulfilled in the near future. Other concerts will be presented at the University during the ensuing semester.

'Quake Fails To Stop Performance

It is traditional that "the show must go on," regardless. Fresno State college players staging one of their productions the night an earthquake rocked the Pacific west, upheld the tradition in true trouper style.

Although frightened, the amateur players continued to speak their lines, as chandeliers in the auditorium ceiling swung, and the scenery "flashed" threatened to crash down on them.

Their courage was credited with preventing a small panic among the audience.

Tulane Scrubs To Receive New Name

Tulane students have requested to partake in a contest to submit the best name for the football reserve team next year.

This organization will be composed of students who wish to play football whether they are eligible for varsity competition or not, and will be similar to that of the Georgia Tech Grey Devils and the Southern California Spartans. Games will be played only with the freshman team since ineligible bars further competition. However, eligible students showing proper ability, will be promoted to the varsity squad.

Studies and Grads Form Alumni Club

Graduates and former students of the University met at 8 p.m. Tuesday, January 3, at the Paducah Junior college, for the purpose of forming an alumni club of the University. Bob Mitchell, former student of the University, was influential in organizing the club.

This first meeting was attended by 29 alumni. It was decided that the club should be named "Paducah University of Kentucky club." The business transaction included election of officers who will serve for the ensuing year. They are: Curtis Sanders, '25, president; Clifford U. Jett, '21, vice-president; Mrs. Errett Pace, '25, secretary; Mary Watson, '31, treasurer. Miss Elizabeth Eaton, '32, was appointed to act as permanent chairman of the social committee.

WASH YOUR WINDOW, LADY?

One way of solving the financial situation of college students has just been found by the Colorado Teachers' College, even if the solution is making window washers out of some of the boys.

Through the co-operation of the Greeley merchants, the secretary of the dean of men has created a demand for student window washers. All boys who were interested in this proposition merely applied at the dean's office and were told where to find the pail and sponge and on what to start to work. What next!

COULDN'T THE SMILES

It matters not how many years
Of life I chance to see;
It matters not what unknown fate
The future holds for me—
It matters not, if every day
I find some task to do
That sows the seeds of happiness
Where pain or heartache grew.

We should not measure life alone
By checking off the miles,
But while we live our little day
Let's count the friendly smiles
That mark our path, and let be so
Considerate and kind
That love will shed its radiance
On those we leave behind.

Gold Prospector Discovers Cave

Dr. McFarland Receives Descriptive Letter From Hayes Perkins

Dr. A. C. McFarland, state geologist, recently received a letter from Mr. Hayes Perkins who states that he has recently discovered a cave which will be a wonder of the world.

The cave was discovered on December 24, 1931. Mr. Perkins claims that the cave contains the deposit of blue flint which the Indians used to tip their arrows. This is present in large quantities.

Mr. Perkins has named the cave, "Eureka" and states in his letter, "Eureka cave will be given a write-up in history and I have given the University of Kentucky the opportunity to back the Eureka cave in its discoveries and historical development. There is nothing like it in the world; it is incomparable." He also states that he will open the cave early next spring for the benefit of the tourists.

"Eureka" is located in the southeastern part of Kentucky, in McGreary County. Mr. Perkins discovered the cave while prospecting for gold. Doctor McFarland will probably investigate this cave in the latter part of June.

Interfrat Buyers Purchase New Delivery Truck

A delivery truck recently was purchased by the Interfraternity Co-operative Purchasing company in order to care for the increasing business of the group. This was announced by Larry Crump, purchasing agent for the organization.

According to Crump the agency is working in smooth fashion. Seventeen social organizations are members of the group, which was organized at the beginning of the semester. Fraternities are cooperating satisfactorily according to heads of the corporation. Only organizations having the best credit standing are allowed to become members of the group.

Although no contracts are made by the officials, commodities are bought through the purchasing agent at the best possible prices. This cooperative purchasing has resulted in considerable saving to the fraternities participating. The acquisition of the new truck will assist in making deliveries in the least possible time.

It was also announced that the organization is in a position to store large quantities of goods in the warehouse that has been utilized in the Service building. This facility enables the association to receive benefit from the purchase of a volume of goods, according to Crump.

Organizations May Buy Picture Panels

Pictures of social and honorary organizations which were mounted on panels for use in making plates for the 1933 Kentuckian are now available at the Kentuckian business office, according to an announcement by John Ewing, business manager.

The pictures are mounted around the crest of social organizations and around the key or pin of honoraries. According to Ewing, the pictures have been neatly mounted upon carefully selected panels. The art work for the panels was done by William Frazer, co-art editor of the annual.

Students interested in obtaining pictures of their organization are requested to call at the business office on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons between 3:30 and 4:30 o'clock.

Colorado Mines Wants New Coach

Students at the Colorado School of Mines recently signed a petition asking the athletic council of the school to dismiss the coach and secure a new staff for the varsity gridgers. A majority of the members of the letter men's club also added their voices to the clamor for a change.

While at Colorado the football team played 43 games, won nine while losing 33 and tying one. Student opinion according to the Oredigger, school paper, favors the hiring of Dutch Clark, former all-American quarterback, as head coach. Clark recently played professional football in the National league.

An Associated Press dispatch from Lexington contains the following information: "January 23 will be a sad day for Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, University of Kentucky zoologist, who is touring the world in search of rare membraeidae."

The scientist hasn't found out yet that Kentucky was trounced at football on Thanksgiving day by Tennessee. He left a request that newspaper stories of the game be mailed him at Kuala Lumpur, Federated Malay States.

"I shall come out of the jungle at Kuala Lumpur January 23," he said before leaving Lexington, "and that will be the first news I can get of the Thanksgiving fracas."

Another item of news which will interest the scientists is that the old Southern Conference, of which he was secretary for several years, has split into two groups.

Chicago U. Shows Talking Pictures

Educational Film Seen By
Audience of 400
Students

Three talking motion pictures produced by the University of Chicago, providing in 20 minutes a presentation of scientific theories and processes ordinarily requiring six to nine hours of classroom lectures and laboratory demonstrations, were exhibited yesterday afternoon in the Electrical Engineering lecture room before an audience of over 400 students, faculty, and staff members. Mr. R. D. Hemens of the University of Chicago brought the films to the University and spoke before the showing.

The films are titled "Oxidation and Reduction," "The Molecular Theory of Matter," and "Dider, A Parasite," the last named being a presentation and a proof of the parasite characteristic of a pest which has bothered agricultural experts for many years. These films are now being used in the general course for freshmen and sophomores as a part of the regular curriculum at the University of Chicago.

President Robert M. Hutchins of Chicago, with the co-operation of other educators, spent several years studying the possibilities of talking pictures as an educational tool. He says concerning the films, "These pictures are not intended to replace the teacher. They cannot have that effect. The pictures without a teacher lose nine-tenths of their value. Without an instructor the films are merely an interesting series of scientific experiments. With a competent teacher they become a potent educational instrument."

Will Make Others
The three pictures shown yesterday will be followed by immediate production of three others, dealing with Electrostatics, Energy and Transformation, and Velocity of Light. Production is contemplated of a talking motion picture in other broad fields of the Chicago educational plan, the humanities, the social sciences, and the biological

WILDCATS WHIP S. CAROLINA 44-36

By GENE LUTES

After returning from a long hard basketball trip the Kentucky Wildcats took time out to take the South Carolina Gamecocks in camp by the score of 44 to 36. The tilt was fast throughout even though the Wildcats were never in danger of defeat.

With Yates getting the tip-off most of the game the Wildcats controlled the ball without any difficulty. After the game was two minutes old Yates tipped one in from under the goal to give the Wildcats two points. On the next play Sale fouled Henderson which was made good. Darby and Sale got hot in the first stanza and converted seven field goals between themselves. Davis and Johnson slipped in for one goal each. Davis was fouled by Tompkins and made his free shot to end the scoring for the Wildcats. The half ended with Kentucky having a lead of seven points over the Gamecocks. The score was 22 to 15. Henderson and Tompkins did most of the scoring for the Gamecocks in the first half.

The second half was started off by Ray fouling Davis who converted the extra point. After the Wildcats had run the score to a good lead Coach Rupp sent his reserve strength in to finish the tussle. The Gamecocks took advantage of the reserves and made seven points while the substitutes were making one.

Henderson, South Carolina center, won the scoring honors for the Gamecocks by making seven field goals and four free throws, a total of 11 points for the night. Captain "Aggie" Sale and Darrell Darby shared in the scoring honors for the Wildcats by making 15 and 10 points respectively.

On Monday night, Clemson will come to Lexington to engage in battle with the Wildcats.

What Is Technocracy?

suming present hours and employment rules. Certainly something must be done, but do Technocrats and their philosophy provide the best means as a remedy for alleviation, i.e., will a Technocratic social system meet the economic test of satisfying the entire social order for the best interest of all concerned? I doubt it.

The new Technocrats' philosophy says that our price system has broken. This is Marxian philosophy in a new dress. They say we will have to find something to use for money. Kilowatt hours of electricity might do. Under a Technocratic order you could possibly go to the grocery store with 500 kilowatt hours, do your trading and receive in return three street car tickets, and one railroad ticket good for 30 miles, all of which are good for only thirty days. You couldn't possibly hoard as people have in the United States since 1929; for in 30 days your property will be exactly nothing.

I think some good may come from the technocratic craze since people will get a slight respite from the depression thoughts and many may be brought face to face with this perplexing problem, but if you ask me, Technocracy is three-fourths "hokum."

Band Will Play At Home Games

With the division of "The Best Band in Dixie" into two separate units, a concert band and a basketball band, comes an announcement that the latter of the two will play at each home game except the last. Under direction of Elmer G. Sulzer, this band featured at Tuesday night's game a Brass Quartet; at the second game, a German band; a Woodwind quintet will entertain the onlookers at the third game; and at the fourth game, and from then on, spectators will hear reproductions or combinations of the first three programs, depending entirely upon how the public receives the proposed offerings.

Wildcats Leave For Tennessee

Captain Sale's defense was much improved and his offense seemed to have more power than that which he has exhibited to local fans heretofore this year.

In the practice sessions this week the varsity has been given a thorough drilling in their passing attack and working the ball in close before shooting and they looked much more polished than they did against the Ohio State Buck.

Rupp in an attempt to give all the reserves a chance to make one trip will change the traveling squad for the Tennessee game and will take Jackson in place of Evans Settle, who made the long trek to Omaha. The rest of the squad will be unchanged.

Another game which was to have been played on the trip was cancelled by the Sewanee authorities and the game to be played here may also be cancelled.

The following men probably will make the trip: Captain "Aggie" Sale, Darrell Darby, George Yates, John DeMoisey, "Dutch" Kreuter, Robert Jackson, Ellis Johnson, Tucker, Bill Davis and Dave Lawrence.

Soloists to Appear On Sunday Vesper

Krake, who for several years was a member of the faculty of Transylvania college, wrote the music for this scene when the play was presented three years ago by members of the faculty and students at Transylvania college. Mrs. Hansen and Mr. Kemp were the soloists at that time and have often been asked to repeat the performance of this thrillingly beautiful music.

The entire program is as follows:
1. Aria—"Depuis le jour" from Louise, Charpentier; Mrs. Hansen.
2. Nina, Pergolesi; Vale, Russell; Aria—"Lesta la gubba" from Pagliacci, Leoncavallo; Mr. Kemp.
3. Autumn, Rogers; Unmindful of the Roses (One Scaside Grave) Edwin Schneider; Love-Tide of Spring, Frank LaForge; Mrs. Hansen.
4. Dido—The Carthaginian Queen Foster Krake; The Love Duet from Act III, Scene I; Mrs. Hansen and Mr. Kemp.

BLOCK AND BRIDLE TO MEET

Hershel Well, graduate of the College of Agriculture, will address members of the Block and Bridle club and visitors at an open meeting which will be held at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday night, January 17, in room 215 of the Agriculture building. All students of the Agricultural College are invited to attend, according to an announcement by Herman Rothwell, president of Block and Bridle.

Kentuckian Cup Now On Display

A beautiful loving cup is now on display at Dunn's Drug Store, located at the corner of Lime and Maxwell streets, which will be presented to the fraternity or men's dormitory selling the highest number of Kentuckians during the present sales campaign. In addition, individual salesmen will be awarded a 1933 Kentuckian if they sell 10 annuals before the end of the sales campaign, January 16.

Due to the lack of interest in the selling of Kentuckians it was decided to adopt this policy of encouraging their sale by offering a loving cup to the men's group selling the highest number, and a free Kentuckian to the individual salesmen. At present the standing of the fraternities is: Alpha Gamma Rho, 16; Keppa Sigma, 8; Triangle, 7; Pi Kappa Alpha, 6; Alpha Sigma Phi, 5; Delta Tau Delta, 4; Sigma Nu, 1.

FRESHMEN WHIP CUMBERLAND 43-8

Victorious in their first two games, the freshman basketball team with Coaches Campbell and Miller, will travel to Jackson tonight to meet the Lee's College quintet in their third contest.

Paced by "Slip" Jerome and Garland Lewis, the frosh basketballers swamped the Cumberland College varsity team, 43-8, in Williamsburg, Monday night. Jerome accounted for 15 points while Lewis garnered 13 markers.

Playing a steady game, the freshmen swept into an early lead and were never behind during the contest. As the score indicates, the Cumberland collegians failed to offer much opposition and the entire ten men who made the trip, saw action. Every member of the starting lineup scored and Arnold and Helton were the only reserves who failed to tally.

The summary:
Freshmen (43) Pos. (8) Cumberland
Hersfield (4) F. (1) Scree
Jerome (15) F. (2) Allen
Lewis (13) C. (4) Binford
Edwards (4) G. Aylor

Substitutes: Freshmen—Taylor

U-High Purple Squad Bow to Frankfort Hi

(U-HI LIGHTS)

Last Friday night we saw this season's Purple squad make their debut. It's true they lost, but all of University High's supporters are assured that Coach Kemper is going to hand us in a few more weeks one of the best teams that University High has ever produced. That's enough of that—now to get back to the game.

It is 7:30. The teams have not appeared as yet, but here comes the Purple, the first glimpse of them this year. They don't look very big and muscular but they can shoot and they are fast. Let's see, there's Rentz, a newcomer "Petie" started him at guard and he showed that he was well able to fill that position. Another newcomer, and also a guard with his fast floorwork and ability to break through the finest defense, has shown that he will hold down his place on the five. Now that Fisher is gone, we find our old friend, Hope Wiedeman, holding down the pivot position, and as well as he did in football at that, and that is pretty good.

We also saw another new face in the Purple uniform, that of D. Kelley, and Dudley showed us that he is made not of rice and spice and everything nice, but nails and snails

Wildcat Captain

FOREST SALE—FORWARD-CENTER

Forest "Aggie" Sale, giant center and captain of the Kentucky quintet accounted for 15 of the Wildcat points in the game with South Carolina Tuesday night. The big boy from Lawrenceburg and Caveanaugh high school, and last year's College Humor all-American, when in form spells catalysis for anybody's ball club.

and puppy dog tails; a tough man, watch him go. Look a little farther and there's old Cecil Hellard, the high point man of the night for the Purple—by the way, one of the big bearings in the Purple wheel, that's Cecil. We miss not seeing Sel Longley in the lineup, but you know Sel's had a bad knee since the Eminence game. However, while he was out hunting Panthers, although not for long, he did his share. I am going to quit rambling and tell you about the game.

The score was Frankfort 26, University High 19. Neither team could do much scoring in the first quarter and the teams played on even terms throughout the first half. At the start of the 3rd period Frankfort slowly drew away from the Purple, aided greatly by the shooting of Kernen and Hulet. The Purples spurred in the last quarter when Cecil Hellard threw in two hoops and Kelley followed with a basket and two fouls, bringing the score up to 17 to 20. Frankfort then added three baskets while the Kempermen could get only one. The game became rough in the second half with Frankfort receiving most of the free awards. The Panthers were able to make but four of their 15 penalties good, while University High was making five out of nine.

Two more newcomers, C. Kelley and John Stark, although in the game for only a short time, played very well.

WOMEN'S BAND ORGANIZED

The women's band at the University, which has been organized recently, is to play with the entire band at the last basketball game of the season. They will also play on a program prepared for the May Day celebration.
